When a girl has first learned how to kiss, she begins to wonder how she got along without it.

The way to drink is to take one drink and then let it alone; and then take another and then let that alone.

Mr. W. F. Tucker, who moved from Germantown to Ripley a few weeks since, has returned to Germantown.

William Liebold, a telegraph messenger boy at Lancaster, Pa., has stolen and spent $4,000 since October and is now in jail without a penny.

The Supervisors of Tax completed their preliminary work yesterday and adjourned till February 8th, when they will meet to hear grievances.

In anticipation of a big rush of business the Frank Owens Hardware Co. has put in a new floor and hung the hatch doors on invisible hinges.

A defective fuse caused a slight blaze at the plant of the Mayville Carriage Company yesterday. It was extinguished without an alarm. Loss trifling.

Crowding a half-ton animal into an inch space is like trying to ram a market bull into a pistol barrel. Something is liable to bust. Usually it is the animal.

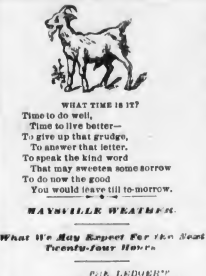

Mr. R. L. Gillespie's "Cyclope Store" at Lexington was struck by fire a few nights ago. Loss said to be $3,000. The friends of Bob will be glad to hear that he was insured.

Lexington there is a club the young member of which is 89 years old. All the others are over 90. The club meets regularly for purposes of mutual improvement and social pleasure.

The farmers here were wishing for a snow to protect the wheat. They have it now. And since McKinley has been elected, if the farmer doesn't see what he wants just let him ask for it.

Charles Hafer, the young man, who was so seriously injured at the Cotton Mills a few weeks ago, was able to be out of bed last evening. It will be remembered that he was struck in the head by a rope-hobbin which flew out of the machine, and it was thought he would die.

Our Carlisle friends don't practice what they preach. Theoretically, they're Fruct-traders, practically, they're Fruct-eaters. Monday they had Mr. William Truitt of this city, who represents Ballenger & Co., arrested for selling clothing in their town without having paid a license tariff.

WHAT TIME IS IT?

Time to love better.

To give up that grudge.

To answer that letter.

To speak the kind word.

That may sweeten some sorrow.

To do now the good.

You would leave till to-morrow.

FIRST SHOW FOR VETS!

Old Soldiers to Have First Preference For Government Appointments.

In the House of Representatives yesterday Mr. Brodus of Pennsylvania, who is Chairman of the Civil Service Committee, had passed a bill increasing the classes to which preference shall be given in appointments in the Civil Service.

It provides that those classes shall be discharged Union soldiers and sailors of the late War and honorably discharged Union soldiers and sailors and widows and orphans of the Union soldiers and sailors.

The present law gives preference to those Union soldiers and sailors who were discharged by reason of wounds or sickness contracted in service.

The bill was modified so as to read that preference would be given to soldiers and sailors of the United States in the War of the Rebellion and was then passed.

Here's a pointer to those who drive horses. It is said that runaway horses are almost unknown in Russia. No one drives there without a thin cord with a running noose around the neck of the animal. When the horse bolts the cord is pulled and the horse stops as soon as it feels the pressure on its windpipe.

PROFITABLE PUBLICITY.

BARGAIN ADVERTISING PAYS—PEOPLE EXPECT BARGAINS.

By NATHAN C. POWELL, JR., Doctor of Publicity.

Copyright, 1896, by Nathan C. Powell, Jr., The New York Building, New York.

There must be bargains.

People expect them.

People will have them.

The real bargain is legitimate.

Bargain advertising pays.

Bargain advertising is simply another form of specialty advertising.

It has all the advantages of "one thing at a time."

When you advertise a bargain, he sure it is a bargain.

Bargain advertising must be honest.

The bargain advertisement must occupy large space.

The price must be given.

Do not be afraid of the largest type, the largest space and the boldest of true state merits.

Don't advertise the same bargain the same way twice.

Don't tell so much about the bargain in your advertisement that people will have no curiosity to look at it.

Bargain advertisements should have one very large headline, and sometimes one is enough.

Set the price in the largest type.

If you only give one figure, and that is an even number of dollars, there is no necessity of filling up space with ciphers.

Hand bills may pay, but not one tenth as well as the large, bold advertisement in the local newspaper.

Not because the publisher says it, not because I say it, but because experience proves it: "Newspaper advertising is the only indispensable form of local publicity, and the only kind that is liable to pay ninety nine times out of a hundred."

WE'RE FOR AMERICAN AMERICANS!

THE St. Louis Globe-Democrat, one of the ablest Republican newspapers in the country, says Governor BRADLEY has been criticized in and out of Kentucky for not calling Governor Bradley, during a special session of the Legislature, to choose a successor to Senator BLACKBURN, whose term expires on March 4th. In answer to this fault-finding he points out the important fact that a legislative election cannot be secured in that way. The law provides that the Legislature chosen next preceding the expiration of a Senator's term shall, on the second Tuesday after its meeting and organization, proceed to elect his successor, and that a vote shall be taken each day until an election is accomplished. A like provision is made as to a vacancy existing on the meeting of the Legislature or occurring during a session.

The Kentucky Legislature met last January and undertook to perform this duty, but failed to reach an election, and adjourned sine die.

Thus, Governor BRADLEY contends, his power in the case was exhausted, that is to say, an election not having been effected before adjournment the law ceased to be applicable in that respect and there is no authority left for the choosing of a Senator until a vacancy occurs, which will not be until BLACKBURN's term expires. Consequently, a Senator elected before that time would not have a valid claim to the office.

It is certain that no vacancy now exists, either actual or implied, as Senator BLACKBURN is in Washington performing the duties and drawing the salary of the office.

There is equal reason for the failure of the Legislature to elect during the regular session, as directed by the law, was equivalent to a forfeiture of authority in the case, inasmuch as the law makes no provision for any further proceedings of that sort. To be sure the Senate is the sole judge of the qualifications of its members and might vote to seat a man elected at a special session; but in this particular instance, the circumstances forbid expectation of such a result. BLACKBURN's successor is sure to be a Sound Money man, and the Free-Silver Senators, who constitute a majority, would vote solidly against his admission for political reasons. It is evident, therefore, that Governor BRADLEY's course in the matter is a sound and judicious one, and that he does not deserve censure for his refusal to aid in bringing about an election that would be premature and unauthorized. While conceding that "it is of vast importance that Kentucky should elect a Senator," he insists that "it is of much greater importance that he should be seated after he is elected." The state has only itself to blame for the complication which will deprive it of full representation in the Senate for a time after March 4th; and the best thing it can do is to be patient until it can correct its mistake in a legal and proper way.

WILL ACCEPT.

Sherman to Be Secretary of State in McKinley's Cabinet.

The Senator's Inclinations Were Not in This Direction Originally.

But After Careful Consideration It Seems to Him That He Can Do More Service in the Cabinet Than by Remaining in the Senate.

CANTON, O., Jan. 14.—A message received here from Washington Wednesday night makes it reasonably certain that Senator Sherman's present intention is to accept the position of secretary of state in Maj. McKinley's cabinet. It was intimated to Senator Sherman several days ago, as indicated in these dispatches, that Maj. McKinley would be glad to know whether or not Sherman would accept a cabinet position. Senator Sherman's inclinations were not in that direction originally and his first thought was according to friends here, that he ought to remain in the senate, but after careful consideration on the subject it seems to him that he can, perhaps, be of more service to the country and to his party at the head of the department of state. If present arrangements are not changed, and there is nothing to indicate they will be, Senator Sherman will occupy the leading place in Maj. McKinley's cabinet.

Maj. McKinley had an unusually large number of callers Wednesday. Among them was Congressman-elect C. B. Landis, of Indiana. Said he: "I think the republicans will be able to hold Indiana, but it will be a matter of difficulty to do so, unless there is a general and genuine revival of business within the next year and a half. The free silver sentiment is not dead in Indiana, and will live as long as there are private and public enemies of the gold standard."

The suggestion of John Sherman for secretary of state and Charles B. Smith, of Philadelphia, for secretary of treasury meets with much favor in Indiana, and both with fitting regard as strong and fitting ones.

MURDER MYSTERY.

Thomas Godfrey Killed by Two Unknown Men in His Saloon.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Jan. 14.—Thomas Godfrey, aged 41 years, was mysteriously murdered in his saloon, at the corner of Monticelli and Seller streets, at 230 West Broadway, last night. Godfrey says that he was playing checkers in the grocery part of the establishment with his children at 8:30, when the same and called them to bed. She went with them upstairs, leaving no one in the grocery, save her husband. She had seated herself to teach the youngest of her children when she heard a pistol shot in the saloon below. She rushed immediately down the stairs. Through the pistol smoke which yet clouded the room she saw her husband stagger back and heard him exclaim: "My God, I'm done for!" and then heard his corpulent body fall from the hole in the ceiling. The front door, which Mrs. Godfrey left closed, stood ajar. The dead man had all his valuable in his pocket. A revolver was properly loaded and in place in the drawer. Inquiry by the police developed the fact that the saloon was run by the switchman's shanty on the Cincinnati Southern, north bound, was making up in the yards. The saloon was closed at 10 o'clock. Two men answering the description told the train as it went out.

Capt. Crane was notified Wednesday night that three men, supposed to be the murderers of Thomas Godfrey, were on the train at Williamsburg. They will be held for him until Thursday.

NO MONEY.
And the State Treasurer Can't Be Forced to Pay the Warrant.

FRANKFORT, Ky., Jan. 14.—Judge Cautrell, of the Franklin circuit court, decided Wednesday night that the state treasurer could not be compelled by mandamus to pay warrants issued in 1905, on the ground that there was no money in the general expenditure fund. The warrants were presented for payment. The treasurer has since 1905, however, been paying on warrants issued on the general expenditure fund, and this suit was to prevent the treasurer from discriminating between warrants on other accounts and those on the general expenditure fund. The court decision whether the fund of one fiscal year can be used to pay the warrants of another fiscal year was not passed on.

PAPERS FILED.
Sent Jackson's Petition for a Habeas Corpus to the Court.

FRANKFORT, Ky., Jan. 14.—The petition for a writ of habeas corpus for Jackson, sent to the court by the general expenditure fund, and this suit was to prevent the treasurer from discriminating between warrants on other accounts and those on the general expenditure fund. The court decision whether the fund of one fiscal year can be used to pay the warrants of another fiscal year was not passed on.

The case has been assigned to Judge Hayslett and will probably be reviewed by another judge. Both the Jackson and Walling petitions are expected to be overruled by the last of the week, and a mandate will then go to the court, who will fix the date of execution.

RESOLUTIONS

Passed by the Monetary Conference at Indianapolis.

Many Propositions Presented From Different Parts of the Country.

Nearly All Plans Contain in Some Form the Gold Standard, Denomination of Five Money, Retirement of Greenbacks and Back to Issue Notes.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Jan. 14.—The monetary convention was late in beginning its second day's work. The committee on resolutions got together at 9 o'clock at the Denison and began considering the 100 propositions which were offered at Tuesday night's session. Mr. H. H. Hanna was elected chairman of the committee. Nearly all the suggested plans contained in some form the gold standard, denomination of fiat money, proposals that the greenbacks be retired, and that national banks be permitted to issue notes to the full amount of bond held.

At 10:30 the convention was called to order by Chairman Patterson, and a multitude more of plans for the revision of the currency and financial system was brought to the front.

Charles E. Adams, president of the Nashville meeting, called the attention of the organization by states of business men in order to expedite similar conventions in the future.

E. C. Camp, of Knoxville, Tenn., advocated a tariff law sufficient to yield revenue of $500,000,000 annually, and retire the greenbacks and other government indebtedness at the rate of at least $100,000 per year.

Representative C. N. Fowler, of New Jersey, a member of the house committee on banking and currency, was asked to speak. He asserted that President Cleveland's declaration that the last resources of the government would be exhausted in the case of a panic, was a statement that the government would not stand the credit of the nation, alone stayed the flood that was hurrying the country on to a deplorable financial ruin.

Robert W. Perry, of Galena, Ill., offered a resolution declaring it to be the sense of the convention that the currency and banking system should be so amended as to secure, first, an elastic currency; second, safety with a bond issue; third, the security of depositors; fourth, protection of stockholders against dishonest officials; fifth, the retirement of paper currency; sixth, a non-partisan finance committee to suggest to congress desirable changes as the necessity for them develops.

Brief addresses were made by Joseph Wharton, of Philadelphia, & C. Camp, of Knoxville, Tenn., and the committee on resolutions, not having fulfilled the expectation of an early report, the convention took a recess at 4:30 o'clock.

The convention reconvened at 4:30 and adopted a declaration of what it intended to do. It was to consider on the subject by a practically unanimous vote. This declaration included a demand for the gold standard and the retirement of the demand obligations of the government. Accompanying this was a proposition for the establishment of a commission to investigate and report by bill or otherwise upon the evils and remedies of the currency system. This was the unanimous conclusion of the committee on resolutions, a result unexpected by the delegates, and the recommendations of the committee were affirmed by the substantially unanimous vote of the convention.

This was not secured, however, without much opposition and an exceedingly animated debate. The following are the resolutions as adopted:

First, that the present gold standard should be maintained.

Second, that steps should be taken, to insure the ultimate retention of the gold standard of the currency by a gradual and steady process, and so as to avoid injurious contractions of the currency and the consequent injury to the country, and that until such minimum process has been completed, the government should issue notes for a separation of the revenue and note issue from the currency.

Third, that a banking system be provided which should afford credit facilities to every portion of the country, and have a circulation and expansion with a view of securing such a distribution of the currency as will tend to equalize the rate of interest throughout the country, and the purpose of effectively promoting the above objects.

Resolved, that if members of this convention be appointed by the chairman to act as an executive committee, while this convention is not in session, with full powers of this convention. The executive committee shall have the power to increase its membership by one member at a time, and the members thereof shall at all times constitute a quorum of said committee.

The special committee shall have special charges of the collection, receipt and disbursement of contributions, voluntarily made for all purposes, shall have power to call the convention together at any time, and may send bills to said committee to do so, and said committee shall continue in office with reference to the currency, and shall continue to meet until the day of the next meeting of the convention.

Resolved, that it is the duty of this executive committee to endeavor to procure the special session of the convention to be held in March next, and to report to the convention the results of its efforts.

WOOL GROWERS

Of Ohio Disagree in Regard to Tariff Protection.

Resolutions Reported Demanding the Restoration of Protection on Wool.

An Amendment Entering the Dingley Bill Passed—If the Incoming Administration Does Nothing, the Farmers Will Go For Free Siver.

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 14.—For the first time the Ohio Wool Growers' association in its meeting Wednesday was not unanimous regarding tariff protection. The resolutions reported from the committee sets forth that the removal of the tariff on wool had ruined the sheep raising industry and demanded the restoration of protection.

They did not endorse the Dingley bill now before the ways and means committee of the house. Judge W. Lawrence, president of the association, moved to amend by inserting an endorsement of the Dingley bill. It was developed in the discussion that followed that the committee thought the bill too radical and would not report the resolutions with the endorsement in them. The amendment offered by Judge Lawrence was not adopted.
